DATE: 21 – 23 MAY 2010 (3-day class )

GEM CO. ROD & GUN CLUB
Emmett, ID

COURSE: BATTLE RIFLE ( BR )

This intense course will supplement the student’s existing self-defense capabilities with the ability to strike a solid decisive blow at distance through use of the full-caliber battle rifle. The carbine, shotgun and pistol all have their place, but the full power rifle is the Queen of Battle. Course includes practical marksmanship, ballistics, gunhandling, continuity of fire, malfunction clearance, mental conditioning for combat, and more. Suitable rifles in this category include but are not limited to the M-1 Garand, M1A, FN FAL, HK 91, etc. Iron or optic sights are acceptable. Bolt action rifles are permitted, but not recommended. This is not a competition oriented course but is focused primarily on the use of the semi-automatic .30 caliber battle rifle for defensive purposes and is equally suited to law enforcement and private citizens. Exceptions may be made for sub-caliber weapons (re: .223, etc) on a case-by-case basis. Call if in doubt.

EQUIPMENT: Each student will need to bring a serviceable rifle, a carrier system for spare ammunition and knee and elbow pads. Bring your tactical gear if you use it, but bring the gear you are likely to fight in! This is not competition oriented. Wrap-around eye protection and hearing protection are mandatory for all attendees. Your pistol, holster and at least one spare magazine or speed loader and 50 rds. will be needed for transition training.

AMMUNITION: 400 rounds of rifle ammo and 50 for pistol is a minimum.

HOURS: 08:00 to 17:00 daily.

FEE: Tuition is $500. This does NOT include any local range use fees. A non-refundable (unless class cancels) deposit of $200 with your completed application form, will reserve your slot.
